Final Project Pre-Production

Connor Blackmer

Pitchboard

This website is a combination of a portfolio and a blog meant to hold everything pertaining to me; either for entertainment, business, or maybe a mixture of the two.

This website will act as a host for any personal projects I make, and be a project in it of itself. There will be two sections, one which will hold all business related and another which will hold personal stuff such as a blog, personal creations, or just essays of stuff I find interesting. The business side will hold stuff like my resume, projects pertaining to CS jobs I'm interested in, and other relevant information which will be relevant for recruiters. It's essentially a one-stop-shop for everything I find relevant, or important in my life.
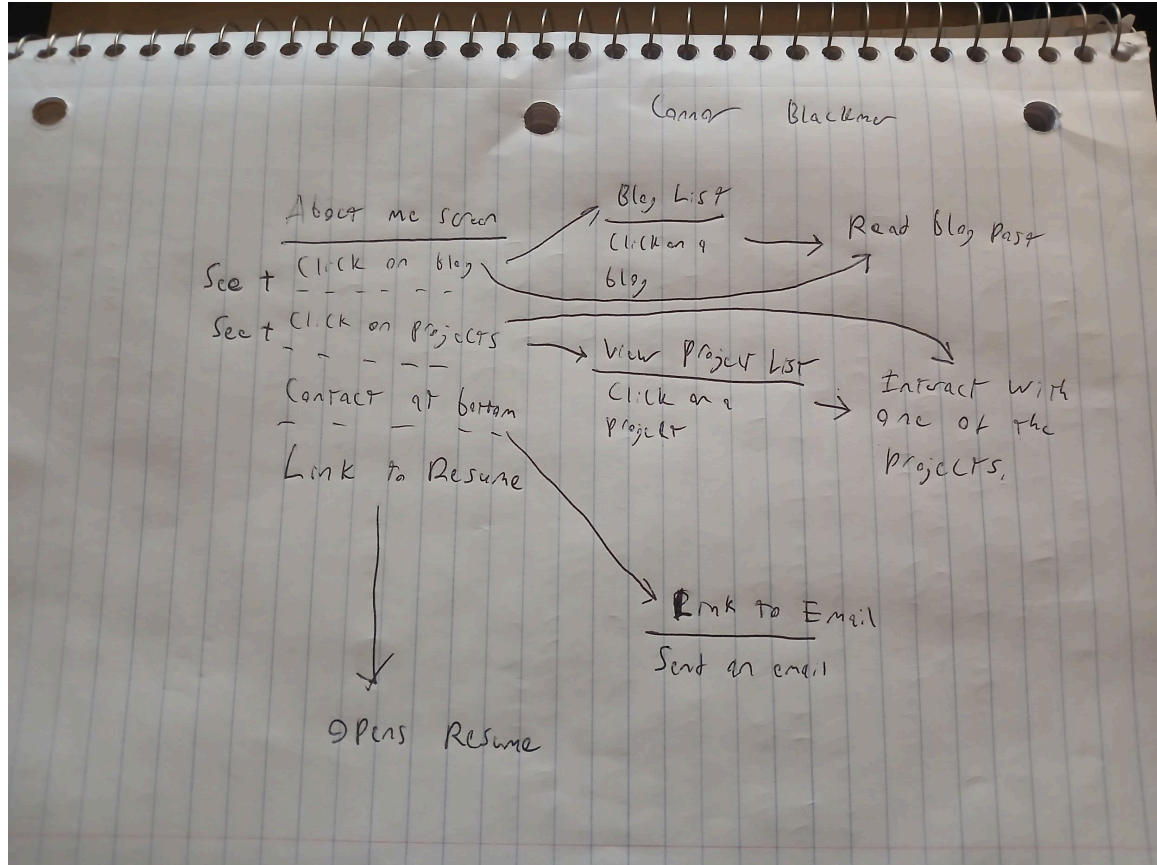

Personas

- Full-Stack Web Dev Recruiter: A recruiter looking for a potential candidate.
- Computer Science and Pop Culture Fan: Someone who would appreciate reading blog posts or reviews on nerdy media.
- Video Game Developer: In the video games industry and reviewing potential hires.

Comps

- Tucker Massad Personal Website (https://tuckermassad.com/)
- Fifty Coffees (https://www.fiftycoffees.com/)
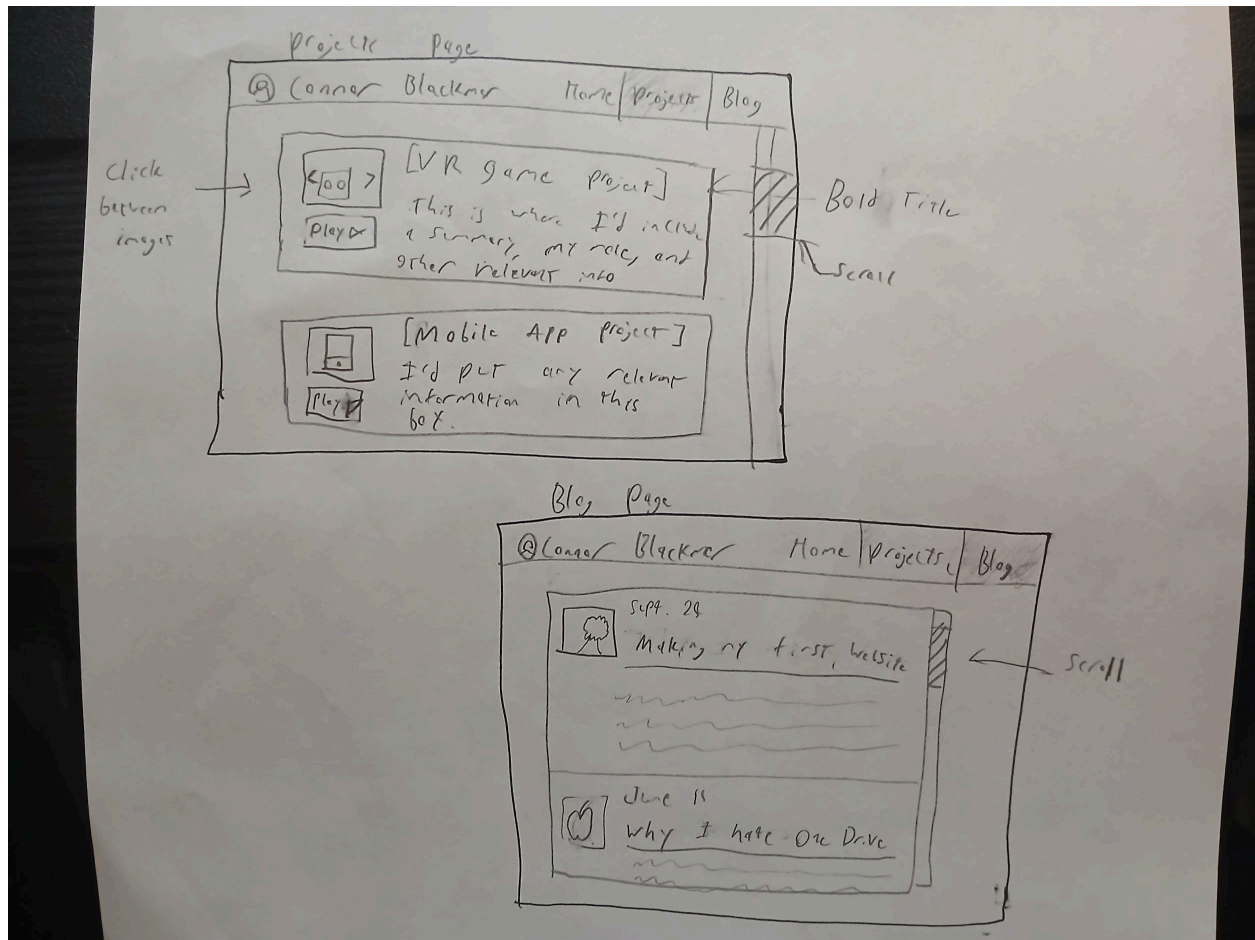

Shorthand Flow

- Clicking a project directly on the homepage will open the project on a separate website
- Contact will also open Outlook to send an email
- Clicking a recent Blog post will go to the blog page and scroll to the relevant blog automatically.
